Section 2: Dojo - Posting Instructions

Overview

The Dojo uses a two-tiered system for receiving leads from our lead partners. The stages are simply: PRE-PING and PING. Each stage receives a greater amount of lead information, allowing lead vendors to customize their submissions according to the business rules and contracts they have in place with their online lead generation properties and affiliates. It is up to the individual vendor to optimize their processing to take advantage of the results of each stage of lead submission.

For consistency's sake, a DojoID will be returned on a successful PRE-PING, which must then be passed as a required parameter into the subsequent PING. In the PING stage, the system will lookup the incoming DojoID and will only proceed when it is able to verify that the previous stage was successful.

Pre-Ping

The Dojo accepts lead "pre-ping" information via an HTTPS POST request. The PRE-PING is really a pre-purchase courtesy lookup that allows vendors to validate that an order exists in The Dojo system for the prospective lead, and that the order is active and un-paused prior to submission in the PING. The DojoID returned on the PRE-PING is for reference only and is different than that returned on the PING. This document assumes that a remote application or process has been created, at a remote location, and can submit an HTTPS POST request to the appropriate URL:

Ping

Unlike the PRE-PING, the PING contains personal contact information for the lead. This information is used to reject duplicate leads. Some vendors are provided this information by their affiliates prior to their purchase-decision and should view the PING as an opportunity to decline a lead that may not be suitable for the intended purchaser. Possible Disqualified Reasons

Leads may be rejected on the PING for a variety of reasons. The reason for disqualification is provided in the "reason" parameter of the PING response. Reasons are always test descriptions that include details about the violation, and may include data regarding another DojoID that may have caused the violation.

The rejection reasons are given as a means of providing feedback for vendor optimization efforts. Critical review of the rejection reasons may shape the direction of future marketing efforts and display ad strategies. Close analysis of the rejection reasons reveal trends in historic and possibly future purchasing patterns. The following table is an incomprehensible list of the PING disqualification reasons. Other reasons may be added as the system evolves. Proper advance notice will be attempted prior to adding additional disqualified reasons.

response	Qualified indicates that a lead is a valid, unique lead for the client. Disqualified means that the lead was rejected by the PING for the reason given in the "reason" response parameter.
DojoID	Unique identifier in TheDojo system for the given lead. Only returned for qualified leads.
Reason	Reason for which the lead was disqualified. Not present on qualified leads.
Message	Error message indicating what may have caused processing to abort abnormally.
